

Wonderful Women of Washington Square

Scavenger Hunt

This Women's History Month, we're honoring some of the women past and present who've inspired us, blazed new trails, and made Downtown Lansing what it is today.

Here's how it works:

1. Search for each of these historic women at locations on the 100 & 200 blocks of South Washington Square.
2. Once you've found the store with her tribute on display, be sure to get this page stamped or initialed!
3. When you've visited every stop, swing by Nelson Gallery to turn in this fully stamped list before March 31 for your free gift (while supplies last) and to enter to win the grand prize.

While supplies last: Complete the scavenger hunt and get an event-exclusive umbrella to get ready for those April showers!

Enter to win! Everyone who turns in a completed list will be entered to win a gift basket featuring some sweet Washington Square swag. Drawing on April 2.

Go to Capital Hippy to find the name of Nancy's favorite beer.

Answer: _____

Go to Kelly's Downtown Irish Pub & Restaurant to find out where Lynne likes to do landscaping.

Answer: _____

Go to Dear Ollie Co. and A Novel Concept to find out who the strong and resilient Martha, may have been in a past life.

Answer: _____

Go to Nubian to find out the traditional name of the sweet treat that Thwria bakes for this vivacious and fashion-forward boutique.

Answer: _____

Go to Jollof Afro-Caribbean Lounge to learn what "everyday activity" Funmilayo Ransome-Kuti was the first women in Nigeria to do, representing strength, leadership, and African women shaping history.

Answer: _____

Go to Kewpee's to find out which famous recipe gives Gladys the nickname "The Sauce Boss."

Answer: _____

Go to Nelson Gallery to find out the name of Betty's department store that thrived for decades before being transformed into the gallery it is today.

Answer: _____

